Comments

a) the course

- Great course layout easy to stay ahead on work but requires time to complete HW assignments Biweekly quizzes ensure the student is staying up on his work Very cool information lots of deep thinking during class and after which was awesome This course is known as a really hard course which people try to avoid but that opinion needs to change Yes the course is difficult but its also one of the most rewarding courses Ive taken here
- Love this class Super cool info and covered at a level where it can actually be used The homework is really hard but not to the point of being unfair

b) the instructor's teaching

- He is always prepared for class knows what hes talking about and encourages questions to keep us engaged in class He writes HW problems that relate to the work and the book very well He's good at talking through the parts of the class that are hardest to understand and easy to learn from He takes student feedback very well and wants to work with us as students to make sure were getting the most out of the course
- Very good at teaching speaks very clearly communicates ideals very exactly Great in class great in office hours

What improvements would you suggest?

- I would like if the homeworks were all a couple questions shorter but I don't think that would make the class better
- My only suggestion is to change some of the first HW set questions many of them are repetitive which just makes them longer than they need to be Also Helenbrook requires MatLab live scripts you could consider that option to make grading easier They made it easier for me to complete the HW for sure
